MOCK ELECTION HELD ON KOREA

A mock election held on board the steamship Korea on her last trip to San Francisco resulted in a sweeping victory for the Republican ticket, as is shown by the following:

10 a. m. aboard S. S. Korea, Nov. 6th, 1906.

We, the judges of the election held this day on board S. S. Korea, hereby certify that 27 votes were cast, of which 19 favor the election of the straight Republican ticket and 8 votes favored the Democratic ticket.

We therefore declare the following candidates elected: A. M. Brown, sheriff; Henry Vida, deputy sheriff; D. Kalaokalani, county clerk; J. W. Cathart, county attorney; F. T. P. Waterhouse, county treasurer; James Beckel, county auditor; Kuhio as Delegate; W. W. Harris, supervisor-at-large; Chas. Hustace, Sam Dwight and A. V. Gear, supervisors. Senators—W. O. Smith, C. F. Chillingworth, L. L. McCandless, Representatives, 4th District—A. D. Castro, E. W. Quinn, W. T. Rawlins, S. K. Kaleo, E. A. Long, John Hughes.

Judges—M. Olsen, M. I. Caeral, A. Martin, J. F. Morgan, kokua.

PIPE FOR WAHIAWA

The waterpipe for the Wahiawa settlement has been ordered. It will be used to pipe water from the mountains down through the settlement.

The pipe will be ten-inch from the commencement to the Dole cannery and six-inch from there on through the town-site, where there is a fall of about 120 feet.

It is anticipated that a wheel and dynamo will be installed to light the streets and for private convenience.

WHAT IS IT?

Among the Colonial passengers is Zenobius Peschkopf, an adopted son of Maxim Gorky, the celebrated Russian author and PROLETARIAT.

Mr. Peschkopf carries on his disdain for conventionalities by making the trip to New Zealand in the steerage.—Advertiser.

adjusted that its mercury bulb comes in the center of the bulb. The distillation is conducted in such a manner that 5 c. c. pass over in one minute. The distillate is run into a graduated cylinder, and when the temperature of 75 degrees C. has been reached at the normal barometric pressure of 760 m. m. at least 90 c. c. shall have been collected. Should the barometer vary from 760 m. m. during the distillation 1 degree C. shall be allowed for every variation of 30 m. m. For example, at 770 m. m. 90 c. c. should have distilled at 75.3 degrees, and at 750 m. m. 90c. c. should have distilled at 74.7 degrees C.

Miscibility with Water—It must give a clear or only slightly opalescent solution when mixed with twice its volume of water.

Acetone content—It must contain not more than 25 or less than 15 grams per 100 c. c. of acetone and other substances estimated as acetone when tested by the following method (Meyer's):

Determination of Acetone—1 c. c. of a mixture of 10 c. c. wood naphtha with 90 c. c. of water is treated with 10 c. c. of double normal soda solution. Then 50 c. c. of N/10 iodine solution are added while shaking, and the mixture made acid with dilute sulphuric acid three minutes after the addition of the iodine. The excess of iodine is titrated back with N/10 sodium thiosulphate solution, using a few drops of starch solution for an indicator.

From 15.5 to 25.8 c. c. of N/10 iodine solution should be used by the spirit.

The solution should be kept at a temperature between 15 degrees and 20 degrees C.

Calculation:—
X equals grams of acetone in 100 c. c. of spirit
Y equals number of c. c. of N/10 iodine solution required.
N equals volume of spirit taken for titration.

Then, X equals  $\frac{Y \times 0.096672}{N}$

Esters—It should contain not more than 5 grams of esters per 100 c. c. of spirit, calculated as methyl acetate and determined as follows:

Five c. c. of wood spirit are run into a flask, and 10 c. c. normal sodium hydroxide free from carbonates are added, and the flask connected with a return condenser and boiled for two hours. Instead of digesting at boiling temperature the flask may be allowed to stand over night at room temperature, and then heated on a steam bath for thirty minutes with an ordinary tube condenser. The liquid after digestion is cooled and titrated with normal sulphuric acid, using phenolphthalein as an indicator.

Methyl acetate.
X equals per 100 c. c. of spirit equal to .074 X c. c. of N/10 soda required X 100 c. c. spirit taken.

Bromine Absorption—It must contain a sufficient quantity of impurities derived from the wood, so that not more than 25 c. c. or less than 15 c. c. shall be required to decolorize a standard solution contain .5 gram of bromine, as follows:

The standard bromine solution is made by dissolving 12.46 grams of potassium bromide and 3.481 grams of potassium bromate (which is of tested purity and has been dried for two hours at 100 degrees C.) in a liter of water. Fifty c. c. of the standard solution containing .5 gram of bromine are placed in a glass-stoppered flask having a capacity of about 200 c. c. This is acidified by the addition of 10 c. c. of diluted sulphuric acid (1 to 4), and the whole shaken and allowed to stand a few minutes.

The wood alcohol is then allowed to flow slowly into the mixture, drop by drop, from a burette until the color is entirely discharged. The temperature of the mixture should be 20 degrees C.

In addition to the above requirements the methyl alcohol must be of such a character as to render the ethyl alcohol with which it is mixed unfit for use as a beverage.

BENZINE.
The benzine submitted for approval must be a hydrocarbon product derived either from petroleum or coal tar. If derived from petroleum, it must have a specific gravity of not less than .800. If derived from coal tar, it must have a boiling point of not less than 150 degrees or more than 200 degrees C.

It must be of such character as to impart a decided odor to ethyl alcohol when mixed with it in the proportion of one-half of one part by volume.

PLANTERS FINISH THEIR CONVENTION

Banquet and Speeches Complete Successful Session

The executive sessions of the Planters' Association took up the entire time yesterday, the last day of the conference. Sub-stations for experiment work were discussed and finally, the most important of all, the labor situation. The various sources of labor from which the Association can draw were discussed as well as the immigration policy of the Territory in connection with the coming visit of Commissioner of Labor Sargent.

The evening was spent most pleasantly at the Young Hotel, where the annual banquet of the Association was held. The following menu was served:

Token Points in Grape Fruit
Canape Siberian
Cream of Chicken a la Reine
Olives Celery Salted Almonds
Fillet of Sole, Sir Thomas Lipton
Escalops of Sweetbread, Renaissance
Tournado de Boeuf, Montepain
Haricot Verts
Sorbet Marchand
Roast Island Chicken
Petit Poin Lettuce
Asparagus Hollandaise
Caramel Ice Cream in Papaya
Cakes
Camembert Cheese
Coffee

After the banquet an adjournment was taken to the pavilion, where speeches were made and cards indulged in. A feature of this part of the evening was the rendering of ancient Hawaiian music, many pieces being played on instruments now obsolete. The program was as follows:

Violin Solo ..... Buckley
Ancient Hawaiian Music—
Pu, Puhiohe, Ukeke,
Oihoi, Uluhi, Pulli, Ili,
and Paipu.
Recitation ..... B. Hartmann
Vocal Solo ..... G. Livingston
Recitation ..... C. Schwartz

POI LUNCHEON

The Ahahui Iolani Society will give a poi luncheon tomorrow at Halealea Lawn under the patronage of Queen Liliuokalani and Princess Kalaniana'ole.

The poi lunch will be under the supervision of Mrs. Carrie Clark, assisted by Mrs. Keohokalohe, Mrs. Na'aohele, Mrs. Mana, Mrs. Kahoe and Mrs. Holstein. Miss Emily Ladd, assisted by Mrs. T. J. King and Mrs. J. O. King, will preside at the coffee table.

Miss Mabel Todd and Miss Harriet Young will deal out coruscopias and Miss Bernice Cook, Mrs. Clara Schmidt and Mrs. H. B. Gehr the lemonade. Mrs. Charles Booth will dispense candy. Mrs. Garratt will superintend the Hawaiian table, while the fancy flower table will be in charge of Mrs. Hanna N. K. Evans, Miss Mabel Taylor, Miss Wilhelmina Wilcox and Miss Pauline N. Evans.

One of the principal attractions will be the sale of autograph ribbons of H. M. Liliuokalani.

TO SUCCEED HIS BROTHER

Captain E. H. Humphrey, the quartermaster of the transport Thomas, has been selected to succeed his brother, Captain C. F. Humphrey, as Depot Quartermaster at Honolulu. C. E. Humphrey left recently for Washington to undergo surgical treatment, and later will be assigned to sea duty for the benefit of his health. Captain E. H. Humphrey is one of the popular officers of the transport service, and it is regarded as fortunate for Honolulu that he has been chosen to succeed his brother. Both are sons of Quartermaster General Humphrey of the United States Army.
